Miodrag Mitrović je rođen u Beogradu 1951. god. Svoju radnu karijeru započeo je 1971. godine u MINEL-ovoj fabrici transformatora, u kojoj je obavljao razne dužnosti i gde je posle 15 godina otišao sa mesta komercijalnog direktora. Tokom tih godina je vodio projekte izvoza tadašnje Jugoslavije u većem broju zemalja (Grčka, Pakistan, Alžir, Malezija).

Posle ovih poslova, prelazi da radi u spoljnoj trgovini, gde provodi narednih 15 godina, prvo u državnoj kompaniji Minel Export Import a zatim se otiskuje u privatni biznis, odmah posle donošenja zakona o privatnim preduzećima 1989 g. Sa dvoje svojih prijatelja osniva privatno preduzeće, koje je tokom 90-ih, u uslovima izolacije zemlje zbog sankcija UN, uspevalo da snabdeva naša preduzeća potrebnim repromaterijalima, pre svega elektoprivredna preduzeća i elektromašingradnju. Ta iskustva u preduzetništvu su bila dragocena, pa je posle tih 15 godina, a posle demokratskih promena i otvaranja zemlje prema svetu, pokrenuo pionirski posao eliminacije opasnog otpada iz okruženja. Osniva kompaniju MITECO koja posluje pored Srbije i u Crnoj Gori i Makedoniji gde su očišćene mnoge lokacije od istorijskog zagađenja. Posebno je sa svojim timom kreirao mnoge inovativne postupke za specifične zahteve takvih projekata.

Pored ove karijere od 45 godina, Miodrag Mitrović je bio aktivan i u stvaranju poslovnog ambijenta za razvoj preduzetništva, tako da je svoja iskustva prenosio slušaocima na predavanjima na Fakultetu organizacionih nauka, u privrednim komorama i mnogim međunarodnim forumima, kao što je ISWA Kongres. Takođe je bio predsednik Udruženja industrije otpada Srbije u dva mandata i predstavnik, privatne industrije Srbije u evropskoj asocijaciji FEAD u Briselu.

Obrazovanje je sticao tokom rada, prvo na Višoj elektrotehničkoj školi u Subotici, smer energetike, zatim na FON-u u Beogradu, kibernetički smer, kao i na specijalizaciji za međunarodne operacije na Višoj poslovnoj školi u Beogradu. Govori engleski.

Oženjen je, otac dve ćerke i jednog sina. Nosilac je zlatne značke Kulturno-prosvetne zajednice Srbije.

Mitrović

Miodrag Mitrović was born in 1951 in Belgrade. He started his career in 1971 in the MINEL transformer factory, where he engaged in a variety of duties and left it after 15 years, from the position of the Commercial Manager. During these years, he led the export projects in the former Yugoslavia to a number of countries (Greece, Pakistan, Algeria, Malaysia).

After these positions, he goes to work in the foreign trade where he spends the next 15 years, first in the state-owned company Minel Export Import, and then setting out into a private business immediately after the adoption of the Private Companies Act in 1989. With two friends of his, he incorporates a private company, which during the nineties, in a country isolated and under the UN sanctions, managed to supply Serbian companies with necessary raw materials, primarily power generation companies and electric machine manufacturers. This entrepreneurial experience was very valuable and, after these 15 years and democratic changes that opened the country to the world, he engaged in a pioneering task of elimination of hazardous waste. He incorporates MITECO company which in addition to its Serbian operations, also works in Montenegro and Macedonia, where many locations were cleaned of historical pollution. In particular, he created, together with his team, a number of innovative procedures for specific requests of such projects.

In addition to his career of 45 years, Miodrag Mitrović also engaged in creating a business environment favourable to the development of entrepreneurship, and transferred his knowledge to the audience that attended his lectures at the Faculty of Organisational Science, chambers of commerce and a number of international forums, such as ISWA Congress. Also, he was a Chairman of the Serbian Waste Industry Association for two terms, and the representative of the Serbian private industry in the European FEAD association in Brussels.

He studied during his work, first at the Electrical Engineering College in Subotica (Energy Department), then at the Faculty of Organisational Science in Belgrade (Department of Cybernetics). He also completed the specialisation in international operations at the Belgrade School of Business. Speaks English.
